The book begins with the story of Julie, a young woman who was diagnosed with kidney failure at the age of 22. After years of dialysis, Julie was facing the prospect of a lifetime of treatment or the possibility of a kidney transplant.

Meanwhile, on the other side of the country, lived a man named John. John had always been healthy, but he was moved to donate a kidney after hearing about Julie's story.

The two strangers met for the first time at the hospital where Julie's transplant surgery would take place. Despite their different backgrounds, they quickly bonded over their shared experience.

Julie's surgery was a success, and she is now living a healthy and fulfilling life. John is also doing well, and he is proud to have been able to help someone in need.
